INCIDENT UPDATE – CANADA PLACE CONSTRUCTION

December 2, 2010 – Vancouver, BC – Canada Place Corporation and the Ledcor Group confirmed that at 7:50am today, one worker on the North East section of the Canada Place construction project had a significant fall. The worker, a sub-contractor with BirdAir, was taken to the hospital. Just after 11am the organizations were notified that the worker has life threatening injuries. The organizations are cooperating with authorities conducting the investigation.

“We are devastated by this news. Our thoughts are with the worker and his family at this time,” said Mike Shardlow, President & CEO, Canada Place Corporation. “We continue to have full confidence in the Ledcor Group on this project.”

“The Ledcor Group is currently conducting its own investigation to fully understand the circumstances surrounding this tragic incident,” said Lee Coonfer, VP, Communications & Public Affairs, of the Ledcor Group. “Once details of the investigation are known, Ledcor will be carrying out a stand-down of its Vancouver construction projects to share relevant information with all work crews and to reinforce with its sub-contractors Ledcor’s strong commitment to safety.”
